

We oppose any Federal modifications to state Telephone Privacy laws. Our laws in Indiana are working just fine to protect private homes from unwanted and unsolicited intrusions. There is, after all, a Constitutional right to privacy. since we placed our name of the Indiana no-call list, we have hardly been bothered with telemarketing intruders. Before the Indiana law the situation was terrible. Now we again have some control over our telephone and who may and may not trouble us with telemarketing calls.